Ludendorff Tells About Events Which Precipitated His Own Downfall On October 26th, 1918

President Wilson sent to the Berlin government Oct. 23, 1918, the third of the armistice notes. He said bluntly that Germany could have only an armistice that would leave the United States and the Allies "in a position to enforce any arrangements that may be entered into and to make a renewal of hostilities on the part of Germany impossible." He also served notice that the United States would not deal "with any but veritable representatives of the German people" and "if it must deal with the military masters and the monarchial autocrats of Germany it must demand, not peace negotiations, but surrender."

This ultimatum brought about the downfall of Ludendorff, the Kaiser and other autocrats of the German Empire.

The first result was an order to the army signed by Hindenburg and Ludendorff attacking Wilson and breaching defiance. The second was an expedition by the Reichstag against this order. The third was an about face by the Kaiser and the dismissal of the man who had been dictator of Germany for two years. Then came the final note of surrender which paved the way for the armistice and the revolution.

By GENERAL ERICH LUDENDORFF

On October 23 or 24 Wilson's answer arrived. It was a strong answer to our cowardly note. This time he made it quite clear that the armistice conditions must be such as to make it impossible for Germany to resume hostilities

While He Hesitated About Resigning, Kaiser Turned Against Him and Dismissed Him.—Note Urging Army to Resist Displeased Emperor.

LOVE FOR COUNTRY, EMPEROR AND ARMY RULED LIFE, SAYS LUDENDORFF

and to give the powers allied against her unlimited power to settle themselves the details of the peace accepted by Germany. In my view there could no longer be any doubt in any mind that we must continue the fight. I felt quite confident that the people were still to be won over to this course.

On the evening of the 24th, shortly before leaving Spa for Berlin there was brought to me the following proclamation, already signed by the Field-Marshal, which expressed the views prevailing at 12 H. Q. on the third Wilson note. It appeared essential that G. H. Q. in its dealings with Berlin, should take up a definite standpoint to this note, in order to eliminate its ill effect on the army. The telegram to the army ran thus:

For the information of all troops:

Wilson says in answer that he is ready to propose to his allies that they should enter into armistice negotiations, but that the armistice must render Germany so defenseless that she cannot take up her arms again. He will only negotiate with Germany for peace if she concedes all the demands of America's allies as to the internal constitutional arrangements of Germany; otherwise, there is no choice but unconditional surrender.

Wilson's answer is a demand for unconditional surrender. It is thus unacceptable to us soldiers. It proves that our enemy's desire for our destruction, which let loose the war in 1914, still exists unimpaired. It proves, further, that our enemies use the phrase "Peace of Justice" merely to deceive us and break our resistance. Wilson's answer can thus be nothing for us soldiers but a challenge to continue our resistance with all our strength.

When our enemies know that no sacrifices will achieve the rupture of the German front, then they will be ready for a peace which will make the future of our country safe for the broad masses of our people.

DEFLECTIONS IN RANKS OF THE MILL STRIKERS ARE ADMITTED

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Admission by union leaders of defections in the ranks of the strikers in the Chicago and Bethlehem districts was the principal development today in the steel strike.

There has been no indication thus far of compromise on either side over the main point at issue—the right of the employees to engage in collective bargaining through unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Reports from the Chicago district indicated that quiet prevailed there today after yesterday's disturbances at Italian Harbor, in which two men died at a crowd of strike sympathizers who attempted to prevent them and others from going to work. Employers announced that more men were returning to work, but union leaders claimed that they were unskilled workmen and that their return would not weaken the strikers' position.

Labor leaders at Bethlehem, Pa., today reduced the estimate of employees of the Bethlehem Steel Company affected by the strike from 55 percent to 25 percent, but announced that they were well satisfied with the situation. Company officials maintain that all shops are working with virtually 100 percent production.

In the Pittsburgh and Youngstown districts there were no material changes in the situation. There were indications at both places that the employees would attempt to resume operation on a larger scale beginning Monday, and labor leaders were preparing to contest the company's effort to disrupt their following.

At Washington the senate labor committee resumed its investigation of the strike. T. J. Davies, a New Castle, Pa., tin worker, was the first witness. He criticized the activities of union organizers, which he characterized as having "all the elements of a conspiracy."

FOREIGNERS TALKED OF SOVIET BODIES RUNNING THE MILLS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—Activities of union organizers in steel districts before the present strike was called had "all the elements of a conspiracy," T. J. Davies, a New Castle, Pa., tin worker, told the senate committee investigating the steel strike today. Foreign workers, in some cases, he said, expect it to result in soviet operation of the mills.

"These men moved mysteriously around the plant," declared Davies, who said he represented the sentiment of 5,000 tin workers. "We kept hearing that they intended to cripple the plants, paralyze operations."

"These foreigners when we asked them, explained they were going to get the 'blood ship'."

"President Wilson, President 'Gumpers,' they all say, 'are with us. You Americans can't work here after this. Nothing but union men!'"

"We'll get the check off system," they said, "and collect all the union dues."

"Some of them explained to me, we would need horses after this, and mules will run mill."

Davies said some workers were intimidated because they "are told their houses will be blown up, and their wives killed."

Having heard representatives of organized labor, Albert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, and a number of steel mill workers, the senate committee investigating the steel strike today today transferred its inquiry into the steel strike to the Pittsburgh district. The dates and arrangements for the trip will be announced after Chairman Rogers has conferred with members of the committee who were about today.

BLOCKADE OF FIUME IS LIFTED

ROME, Oct. 4.—Orders that the blockade of Fiume be lifted have been issued by the government and Italian authorities in the vicinity of Fiume have received an order to allow mail and foodstuffs to pass into the city, according to the Epoca. The military blockade against soldiers and civilians entering the city is all that is now being enforced, according to the newspaper, which says the decision was taken after the government has examined and discussed a protest from the Fiume national council.

DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Efforts of trade unionist mediators to find some means for bringing the government and leaders of the National Union of Railway men together have not been abated in spite of the breach in negotiations. Fourteen closed delegates met this forenoon at the headquarters of the transport workers' federation for the purpose of formulating further proposals. It is expected they will approach Premier Lloyd George on Monday and then place their propositions before the trade congress to be held Tuesday.

"The cabinet met early this forenoon at the residence of Premier Lloyd George to discuss the situation. There were many conjectures among the people, whether King George, who will arrive in London this evening, will be likely to invoke his authority and reassemble parliament, in view of the quarantined aspect of the situation. This suggestion meets with all around approval in labor circles, where it is considered that a public discussion would alleviate the crisis."

YOM KIPPUR OBSERVED

The Jews of Portsmouth observed Yom Kippur, The Day of Atonement, Saturday at their Temple, corner Washington and Third streets, with appropriate services.

As is the custom with the Jewish people, their holiday started at sundown Friday and continued until sundown Saturday. The day of atonement is observed as a fast day, and is the most important of all of the Jewish sacred days.

Stores owned by Jews closed at 5:30 Friday and opened at 5:30 Saturday night. Public prayer, Friday night, started at 8 o'clock and continued until midnight. The Day of Atonement has been observed by Jews for many centuries, and it is at this time that they were accustomed to go to Jerusalem in the fall, thus atoning for their sins.

The services at the temple lasted from 9:30 in the morning until sundown. A good number were in attendance.

Redfern Corsets

Hardly have we felt so enthusiastic about Corsets as we are this season in presenting the new Redfern Corsets.

In materials—well, our wonders whence came such fabrics in these days of scarcity. But it is in design that Redferns particularly excel, for the straight hip lines are copied from Youth itself, and the flat back, and perfection of the shoulder line are a combination rarely found all in one corset. In addition to this, the Fall models have the diaphragm control which is so essential to the vogue.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, wees, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

"I don't know what to do about my case, really. I don't like the idea of starting correspondence with my cousin. Though I have done it, one case resulting in matrimony. I should think you could meet some nice girls through men friends. I must surely make. Do you know any nice girls? I am sure you will not have a single kind of young girl unless you meet them in a more formal way."

"Dear Miss Wise—I am old enough to go out in a while. I have made up my mind to leave home. I never keep company with any one. I think I can make my way until I meet some one to give me a home."

"My idea is that at seventeen, you would do well to content yourself with a book for if your young mother runs around by herself you would not be properly chaperoned and being in the state of mind in which you now are, you probably fly into matrimony to escape living a restricted life at home. At 17 you must not be able to make a living alone. Why not go to night school and learn how to take care of yourself? I do think you should be allowed to go around with young people. Haven't you any girl friends, for if you haven't cultivate a few and let them know you are a good girl, they will be glad to go along for several years. Let them go and you will meet the kind who would take advantage of your away-away desire to be rid of home restrictions."

"Dear Miss Wise—Would you please tell me what kind of toilet soap is best to use on face to keep a nice complexion, and what could I do for my skin in cold weather to keep it from turning like and red sometimes. I do not feel cold only my hands and face look cold. I am thinking you in advance for your trouble, and what is the best face powder to use that does not spoil the complexion."

"X. Y. Z."

"Dear Miss Wise—I am going to ask you to say mother forbids me to go to the moving picture shows. I am very fond of picture shows and have to go to go, but she said if she would have me any more, but I do not go to every one. I asked some of my neighbors and they told me my mother is young and ought to go with a father, she goes by herself. She would want me to go. She gives me a look and tells me to stay home and read. I am seventeen years old."

LUDENDORFF BLOOD THAT IS BLOOD

I had been so busy that the Major, who had to draft the telegram, having regard to the imminent railway journey, had taken it first to the Field Marshal and then to me. Usually all documents for signature by the Field Marshal were submitted to me first to be countersigned.

This order was not consistent with the answer sent to Wilson on the 20th. I was surprised, and asked the Major whether the tone of the order was really in harmony with the views of the Government. He said that it was, and that the order was wholly consistent with the explanations given to the representatives of the press in the Foreign Office by Col. von Haffner and Privy Councillor von Munster. I became hopeful again, and added my signature.

It appeared later that the view that the wording of the telegram corresponded with the views of the Government was incorrect, and that Haffner stopped the publication of the order. From Koro, where revolutionary organizations already controlled the telephones, it came to the knowledge of the Independent Socialists, and thus to that of the Reichstag. It was further, in the usual course, given out confidentially in the press discussion.

At the Reichstag meeting on the 20th at noon a storm of indignation burst over U. H. Q. The Government did not move a finger to protect us, although we were still the head of a mighty army. It was not until late on the evening of the 20th that I heard of this incident. Later the history of the creation of this order was explained in all its context to the Government.

Meanwhile, however, the distortion of the facts had achieved its end, and I was dismissed.

Kaiser Would Not Decide

On October 25 the Field Marshal and I placed our views before His Majesty in Berlin. We expressed the view that we must right on, "the new head of the Civil Cabinet, Excellency."

"THE BIBLE AND THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS"

Will such a League establish permanent peace? Will be the first lecture of another series of lectures that will resume next Sunday night, October 5, 1919, at the old German M. E. church, Fourth and Washington streets, by

REV. R. E. FRENCH

This series of lectures will be upon the five issues of the day in the light of bible prophecy.

The times in which we live are clearly depicted in God's Word. The revelation of the unfolding events put to flight infidelity and doubt regarding the Bible. The public is cordially invited to listen to these stirring messages of the hour. It will be a real blessing to miss a single lecture. Come and bring your friends.

MORAN GIVES CREDIT FOR WINNING YESTERDAY'S GAME TO DICK KERR; NO ALIBIS ARE OFFERED

(Manager of the Cincinnati Reds)

CHICAGO, October 3.—The story of our defeat today is a tale that has to do with superb pitching by a Chicago youngster, and a weird, but entirely excusable error by Ray Fisher.

My hat is off to little Dick Kerr, for that boy pitched a brand of baseball never surpassed in a world series.

The boys tried their best to smash his offerings to safe territory but it was wasted effort and when a fellow can haul the Reds on their rampage they started last Wednesday that fellow is great.

But when they took Kerr back against us a different story will be told for all through the year the Reds have shown a disposition to smash a new pitcher in their second facing.

I started Fisher because I figured that having pitched for years against the Sox, he knew something about the weakness of their batsmen, and Ray, despite the fact that he was beaten, pitched a really splendid game of baseball.

He didn't commit very successfully with him today. But they learned a lot about what he's got and they mean to use the knowledge to their own advantage the next time out.

Italian Offensive Begins

In Italy, on the 20th, the Italian attack began. At first it was directed to the mountain front, but from the 20th onwards it was raging with full force on the Piave. By the evening of the 20th there had been no important developments. The Austro-Hungarian line was still holding. Nevertheless, I expected a quick conclusion of peace with Austria-Hungary. In co-operation with the Bavarian Ministry of War, the first protective measures on the Tiroler frontier were arranged.

In Serbia, General von Kovess found it necessary to order the retirement behind the Danube. There was no change on the Danube frontier of Romania, and on the line of the Roumanian Army beyond the Serch.

Twenty-seventh Goes Forward Again

The southern wing of the 15th Army and the 2nd and 18th were in heavy fighting, the enemy attacking heavily on the 17th and 18th between Le Cateau and the Oise. We were forced to withdraw the front behind the Sambre-Oise canal from the district to the southwest of Landrevies as far as the Oise. After a pause on the 19th, the enemy attacks extended from the 20th onwards towards the Somme.

The enemy pressed on past Soissons and Le Cateau in the direction of Landrevies (New York's 27th and the 20th "Wildcat" divisions were engaged here). Our losses were heavy, and the troops did not fight well at all points. Other troops however continued their attack magnificently. It was the same as ever.

At the first the Army Group of the German Crown Prince had left the left wing of the 18th Army in its position behind the Oise as far as La Fere. The enemy's efforts to cross the Oise were defeated, on the 20th the Thurmman line, between the Oise and the Somme, was occupied. The enemy attacked this line in force, and violent battles developed.

The 7th and 1st Armies were attacked between the Somme and the Aisne. In the main, they maintained their positions, and on the 22nd they threw back a powerful enemy attack with heavy losses.

Position of Greatest Strain

Again on the Aisne as far as Valenciennes, in the Aisne Valley, and towards the heights to the left of the Meuse, the enemy was applying strong pressure. The fighting was heavy and costly, but did not lead to any important changes in our line.

As before, the battle extended to the eastern bank without producing any important changes in our position. The front was quiet.

On the evening of the 23rd, the Western Front was in a position of the greatest strain. There was fighting from the Dutch frontier to Verdun. No help was coming from home. Every encouragement was absent. It was ridiculous that the troops should fight so heroically.

The work of a commander was not, in spite of the terrible conditions of the battle.

The German note of October 27 was capitulated.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of the 20th, still in the mood of the previous

But because the whole nation worked without flinching, we have at last come safely through.

"The more one knows about the struggle, the more one realizes in what small narrow positions margins one success turned."

Winston Churchill's estimate of the military position is given in the "Sunday Pictorial" of January 12, 1919, in the following words:

A very little more and the valiant American warfare, instead of bringing America to one end, might have saved it into absolute surrender.

Bring your money to Kentucky if you want it to work for you under tax laws that give a square deal to money—money on deposit or money invested.

Bring your money to Kentucky and invest it in any industry and you will find you won't be penalized by tax laws that confiscate your money's earnings.

Bring your money to Kentucky where each class of property is taxed according to its ability to earn; where, under our system of classification which has been in effect for two years, the tax revenues derived from land have been reduced from 77 per cent to 57 per cent of the entire tax revenues collected.

Bring your money to Kentucky for deposit or investment under a tax law that does not punish the honest taxpayer; that offers no incentive for any taxpayer to be dishonest; that operates so fairly on all classes of property than tax-evasion is rapidly being reduced to a minimum.

Kentucky has wonderfully fertile fields, coal enough to energize the whole United States, splendid rail and water (Ohio River) transportation, unexcelled manufacturing sites, plentiful financial resources, a liberal buying public, and FAIR TAX LAWS. The Marvelous Tones of the Cheney are Reflected From Wood

X-Ray view of Cheney showing location of Orchestral Chambers

The CHENEY

THE sweetness and richness of tone in such musical instruments as the flute, oboe, cello, violin and viola is universally loved.

Forest Cheney, inventor and musician, determined that a reproducing instrument which substituted in all essentials wooden for the metal parts used in the phonograph, would give a richness and fidelity to its reproductions unapproached by other phonographs.

The instrument which today bears his name is the creation of his genius. It differs altogether from other phonographs and is protected by basic patents.

Within it are embodied the fundamental acoustic principles of the violin and pipe organ. Its sweet purity, quality of tones and fidelity to the original is unrivalled.

The Cheney is a masterpiece of furniture craftsmanship, superb as a musical instrument, and constantly enhances in value. Like a violin.

MORE MILLS TO ATTEMPT TO OPERATE

PITTSBURGH—Strike zone quiet in apparent anticipation of developments Monday when many mills which have been shut down by the steel strike will resume operations.

Steel companies continued to make plans preparatory to opening the plants.

One of biggest breaks in ranks of strikers, occurred yesterday, when hundreds of employees of Parrel works of American Sheet & Tin Plate Company, expressed a desire to return to work.

CHICAGO—Thirteenth day of strike quiet after most serious rioting since strike was called.

At Indiana Harbor last night two negroes and a squad of about 25 who sought to return to work were attacked by approximately 500 strike sympathizers. Several shots fired, wounding one man. Labor leaders admitted some strikers had returned to work.

BETHLEHEM, PA.—Union officials admit Bethlehem Steel Company has made inroads into the ranks of its striking workmen. Company claims every shop is working with practically 100 percent capacity. Number of employees not more than 1,000.

YOUNGSTOWN—Usual conflicting statements and recourses of rumors. Situation unchanged. Striking workers believe activities at local plant of Carnegie Steel Company and of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company indicate an early attempt to re-open.

admission to Coniskey Park.

No announcement from either Manager Gleason of the Sox, or Moran of the Reds, was forthcoming early today as to his pitching selection for today's game, but it was generally believed that Cicotte would be sent back to face the Reds bats that drove him from the box in the first game at Cincinnati and either Ruether or "Red" Eber would be the Red moundman.

White Sox supporters figured on seeing Ruether putting over his left hand slants in view of the two Red southpaw victories and the defeat of Cicotte.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Forecast by a 3 to 6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the third game of the world series, the Chicago White Sox today declared they were ready to back up Cicotte, their one time battered "ace" with the fighting spirit that brought them the pennant in the American league and even up the series at 2-2.

The Reds, stung by the first shut-out of the series after two wins on their home field, did not believe they would again encounter such marvellous pitching as shown by Kerr, indigent leader of the White Sox, and asserted their expectations of having no trouble with the "shine" and knuckle ball Cicotte would serve up, if he should be Manager Gleason's selection for any of the other Sox hurlers.

Sox players yesterday in addition to a beautiful world series pitching by the dandy Kerr, and the "breaks" of the game and brought the series to 2-1. They claim the Reds won the two games at Cincinnati only thru "breaks" but the visitors refuted such claims.

Having familiarized themselves with the breezes, shadows and sun spots of Coniskey park, Manager Moran's winners of the National League race were confident of a better showing today.

Saturday always has been a good baseball day in Chicago and the crowds that began forming about the park before midnight last night indicated that the 35,000 capacity of the clubhouse would be taxed today.

VACANT SEATS YESTERDAY

The approximately 4,000 vacant seats in bleachers and pavilion yesterday could not be regarded as indicative of the interest of Chicago and other midwestern "fans" in the series, according to the management. Though such a situation was plainly disappointing, there was no overflow to the playing field and the only rules were that fair both coming into box seats along the right and left field lines, should be held a two base hit. By noon yesterday 10,000 persons were in line at the gates to the pavilion and bleachers and it was said hundreds lined up witnessing the opening clash here, last night and, despite the ever waning entrance by game time, turned to the mechanical score boards down town and the newspapers.

The partial suppression of ticket scalpers by government officers who took 12 alleged peddlers in down town hotel lobbies and around the park also was expected to add to the

Wilson Has Better Night

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President Wilson had a somewhat better night last night. White House officials said this morning. Dr. A. F. Drumm, the noted neurologist, of Philadelphia, who was called into consultation Thursday at the White House at 11 a. m. and will again see the president.

The president, having more than held his own yesterday, his physicians were hopeful today that his illness might take a more definite turn for the better.

"A slight improvement," was Dr. Grayson's verdict after an examination last night. The bulletin recorded the only change to be noted in the president's condition during the day. It was said he was able to get some sleep and take nourishment in the afternoon and Dr. Grayson hoped this would be reflected by a gain of strength today.

It was emphasized, however, that regardless of the president's condition today and in the near future, he would be permitted to give no attention to the duties of his office. Dr. Grayson is keeping in close touch with all of the physicians here recently he has called into consultation and they are understood to be agreed that absolute rest for a considerable period is essential.

All the members of the president's immediate family were at the White House today, his two married daughters having come to Washington yesterday.

George to discuss the situation. There were many conjectures among the people, whether King George, who will arrive in London this evening, will be likely to involve his authority and reassemble parliament in view of the threatening aspect of the situation. This suggestion meets with all around approval in labor circles, where it is considered that public discussion would alleviate the crisis.

DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Efforts of trade unionist mediators to find some means for bringing the government and leaders of the National Union of Railway men together have not been abated in spite of the breach in negotiations. It is expected they will approach Premier Lloyd George on Monday and then place their propositions before the trade congress to be held Tuesday.

The cabinet met early this forenoon at the residence of Premier Lloyd George to discuss the situation. WINDSOR GIVEN A SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Vincent Windsor, alias Ferguson, 21, Jackson street shoe worker, indicted for rape upon Nellie Bowman, 16-year-old Larktown girl, following an investigation by Judge Thomas, was given a suspended sentence to the Mansfield Reformatory yesterday by the court.

The alleged offense was committed on May 21 last, and the accused strenuously denied the charge. His statements were strongly corroborated by the evidence of others, while the testimony showed that the reputation of the girl was not the best and her story was conflicting.

MORAN GIVES CREDIT FOR WINNING YESTERDAY'S GAME TO DICK KERR; NO ALIBIS ARE OFFERED

BY PAT MORAN
(Manager of the Cincinnati Reds)

CHICAGO, October 3.—The story of our defeat today is a tale that has to do with superior pitching by a Chicago youngster, and a world, but entirely excusable error by Dick Kerr. My hat is off to little Dick Kerr, for that boy pitched a brand of baseball never surpassed in a world series class.

The boys tried their best to snuff his offerings to safe territory but it was wasted effort and when a fellow can haul the Reds on their rampage they started last Wednesday that fellow is great.

But when they slick Kerr back against us a different story will be told for all through the year the Reds have shown a disposition to smash a new pitcher in their second facing they didn't connect very successfully with him today. But they learned a lot about what he's got and they mean to use the knowledge to their own advantage the next time out.

I started this because I figured that having pitched for years against the Sox, he knew something about the weakness of their batsmen, and that, despite the fact that he was beat, pitched a really splendid game of baseball. If he hadn't made the second error everything might have been different.

In the second day tried a daring but dangerous play when he tried to make a throw to second on an attempted sacrifice but while he was off balance he was hit until he could hardly breathe. He had not taken any warm-up but he didn't and both runners were safe with none out; a state of affairs that permitted Gandil's long single to score them both.

But Fisher isn't to blame for taking the chances any one else would have done the same thing—its taking chances that added the Reds so materially through out the regular season.

Once in awhile you lose but otherwise we have won out by that system. The chances these Reds showed splendidly all through the battle. Never once did they stop trying. Never did they halt in their efforts to overcome the lead of the Sox.

They played a fielding game with all brilliancy that they showed in the other two contests.

They attempted to utilize every opportunity to tie the Sox and then go on to victory.

But Dick Kerr stood in the way. Defeats haven't discouraged the boys one bit they have still got the big edge on the Sox (the fact the Sox won a game simply will spur on the Reds to greater effort, they are a fighting crowd all ways and they never fight better than when forced to fight to the utmost—remember the series with the Giants. We took the first two and lost the next pair then we came right back and grabbed the fifth and sixth. The two defeats then was just the kind of a spur that was needed and the same kind of a spur was felt today. Watch the Reds tomorrow with better leading behind with the same splendid fighting spirit they have shown all year. The same spirit that carried them to permanent leads and will lift them to the absolute crest of the base ball world.

O. W. U. VS OHIO STATE TODAY

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4.—Interest in Ohio football games scheduled for today centers in the Ohio Wesleyan-Ohio State contest here. The visitors have the advantage of having played one game, while the former big ten champions have twenty veteran letter men available for play in their first game of the season. "Chic" Harley, full-American half back of 1916 and 1917, in the aviation service last fall, will make his reappearance on the Ohio State team as captain.

Of the other nine games scheduled for the state, practically all of the teams have opened their seasons. The games follow:

CONGRESSMAN KEARNS TO SPEAK HERE

Organization of the various city precincts for the municipal election this fall was effected Friday evening at a meeting of the Republican committee held at the Republican club.

Sherrard M. Johnson, chairman of the campaign committee, announced that beginning with next week, there would be meetings held at the club each evening. Each ward will hold a meeting once a week, followed by one general meeting.

Hon. Charles C. Kearns, congressman from the Sixth District will probably come to the city to deliver an address at one of the general meetings.

Waddell Goes On Warpath

After tanking up on booze last night James Waddell went on the warpath at his home at Riverview, back of Schlotville, assaulted his wife and broke up the furniture. Sheriff Rick ey was notified and he went out and brought the man to the county jail.

E. A. Ervin, 45, colored, who lives on the West Side, was arrested last night and locked up at the county jail on a charge of wife beating, and Harry Yastine, of McDermott, was brought to jail to answer to an indictment charging nonsupport.

WEST END MEN WILL MEET

A meeting of the West End Improvement Association will be held Monday night in the Board of Trade rooms, Masonic Temple. At this meeting a representative of the Ohio Tax Payers League will be present to make a talk. The headquarters of the League are in Columbus.

JENKINS AND RAYMER HELD ON THEFT CHARGE

Mel Jenkins and George Raymer, the Stages Twins in crime, are again in the toils.

The notorious pair was taken into custody last night and lodged in jail in connection with the theft of a lot of bedclothes belonging to a woman named Cecil, of 1915 Walter street. The woman was preparing to move and she had put the bedding out to sun when Jenkins and Raymer charged along and appropriated it, it is alleged. Raymer confessed, but said the theft on Jenkins.

CICOTTE AND RUETHER TODAY

CICOTTE TO TRIP TODAY

Cicotte, who said he was unharmed by hitting a batsman at Cincinnati, told Manager Gleason he was again ready to start against the National league champions. Gleason as usual seemed willing to trust Cicotte's word that he was "ready."

Showers and cooler weather for today was the weather prediction that would bring a change from the three days of unrelenting world's series weather. The sun could increase its heat by several degrees from the 55 degrees that marked the half way stage of yesterday's game, however, and the weather still would remain propitious for ball playing.

Already past the 80000 mark on the total attendance and the $250,000 stake in gross receipts the series gives evidence of producing record figures in both instances, experts say.

Betting that opened with the White Sox favorites at 7 and 8 to 5, moved to even money as the Reds' mothered the American leaguers in the first game and then reversed the initial odds after the National champions took the second contest today, had settled so as to place the White Sox more sure in the home position.

The event that Manager Moran elects to return his star pitcher-batter to the mound today, John Collins a right hand hitter, will displace Nemo Lohbel in right field. Collins was sick during the last game at Cincinnati, but reports he has recovered. If Eller or another right hander is the chosen, Lohbel will head the batting order.

Back From Cincinnati
Allert and George Worsner have returned from Cincinnati, where they saw the first two world series games.

THREE BALLOON CONTESTANTS ARE MISSING

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 4.—For more than two days since ten entrants in the national championship balloon race took the air here, no word has been received regarding three of the entrants and it was believed today that the high wind and storm encountered by some of the racers over Canada, had driven the three missing pilots to landings in unsettled parts of the domain.

The Goodrich 11, which so far leads in distance over the six other balloons, whose pilots have reported, encountered a severe storm, landing elsewhere to the belief that the three missing contestants may have been given his severely rattled sections, where communication with the outside world may be a matter of several days.

PARIS CONCERNED
OVER WILSON'S ILLNESS
PARIS, Oct. 4.—Special prominence is given by all newspapers here to Washington dispatches relative to the illness of President Wilson, and editorial comments reflect the concern felt in Paris over his condition.

The Echo de Paris says that the president's illness "means that the American senate will be left to itself, which perhaps is a good thing, as the opposition, being a counter party, just, if not some force, at least some of its violence."

"The collapse of such a great factor," says the Journal, "is an event full of consequences as rare can replace Mr. Wilson. His most intimate colleague, Colonel E. M. House, and Secretary of State Robert Lansing, were in many points far from approving all the initiatives of their chief while in Paris."

To Attend Conference

John W. Evans, W. K. Fossett, Louis and Fred Minor left Saturday for Cincinnati to attend the national conference of the A. M. E. church. It convenes Sunday and will be held in Allen Temple.

THINGS SEEN IN PORTSMOUTH

Well known Gallia street physician going up Fourteenth street in his auto one wheel being minus a tire, the "inflated" tire hanging useless on the radiator. He was taking a roundabout way home, no doubt, so his friends would not see him.

Aged woman with the daring spirit of a child walking across the street on her tracks in front of an approaching street car which sounded the bell and slowed up when nearly to the woman who continued on her way.

Three beggars on Chillicothe street at the same time Saturday. One of them collected fifty cents in five minutes by actual count.

Augustus Dill of this city, who is business manager of The Crisis recently paid Ironton a visit and registered here the following to say about his visit there:

Augustus Dill, business manager of "The Crisis," a monthly magazine devoted to the negro race, was a caller at The Register office and we have never had a more enjoyable afternoon than that spent with this splendidly colored and highly cultivated gentleman. He is a Harvard graduate of the class of 1908, a son of Portsmouth parents and a relative of our own Charles Robinson, the mail carrier. Mr. Dill has been a resident of New York City for many years and he brings the inside and outside of the East with him. He told us of the circumstances in connection with the holding up by the post office department of a recent issue of his magazine for its publication of the infamous order against the negro soldiers and troops in France. Mr. Dill is heavily alive to the existence of a negro problem in America and it is the mission of The Crisis to pave the way to a better mutual understanding and for more humane treatment for the twelve million negroes in America. He believes the present period of our history is fraught with more ominous circumstances than any other period since the emancipation and he is earnest in his conviction that Americans who fought to make the world safe for Democracy must learn that Democracy like charity begins at home and particularly in the Southland it must be learned that the negro is entitled to, and has earned decent treatment and consideration at the hands of the white brethren.

C. E. Societies Form Union Organization

A temporary union organization was formed Friday night by four Christian Endeavor Societies at a meeting held in the First Christian Church.

Seven representatives of each of the following societies were present at the meeting: The First Christian, the First Presbyterian, the Central Presbyterian and the Second Presbyterian. They gathered in the basement of the church at 6:30 for dinner, and then held an afternoon meeting at 7:30.

The officers elected were Wesley Hidenour, temporary president, and Miss Clara Richter, temporary secretary.

Plans were laid last night for a social to be held sometime within the next few weeks at which time a constitution will be adopted and a permanent organization effected.

The speakers of the evening were Miss Sylvia Ischantz, the state secretary of Junior Christian Endeavor work and Arthur Whitney, the general secretary of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Union.

These workers spoke on subjects of interest to C. E. workers. Miss Ischantz telling specifically how to run a Junior Christian Endeavor Society and how to teach memory verses to small children; and Mr. Whitney speaking about the plans of Christian Endeavor for the coming year.

He outlined a program of specific work, which the new Union, when formed, expects to carry out.

Mr. Whitney is the successor of Stanley B. Vandercarl, who was well known in this city and in all parts of the state as a real leader of young people.

The temporary president, in discussing the plans of organization, said that after three four societies had elected the officers and adopted the constitution, they were going to ask the other societies of the county to come in.

The musical feature of the evening was a quartet, "Drifting With the Tide," sung by four ladies of the First Christian church.

About 35 were present at the meeting.

There was a lively tilt between Solid Ironton council on the matter of granting the Ohio Valley Traction Company a franchise to put a track on North Sixth street, that city. At an adjourned meeting of Ironton council Friday night, there was considerable discussion relative to the granting of a franchise. The Traction Company has presented a petition with names of property owners favoring the track and property owners protesting against it have also presented a petition. City Engineer Howell reported his findings last night saying he found some property owners had signed both petitions.
